THE KOTSONIS ESTATE

4 GENERATIONS OF OLIVE OIL MAKERS

The Kotsonis Estate is located in the Northeast side of Peloponnese, at the area of Ancient Mycenae and Argos. Since antiquity this hilly area is famous for its natural beauty and its fertile soil is distinguished for its suitability in the cultivation of olive trees. People of the Estate are engaged in the olive oil production for more than 100 years, making their own history of premium olive oil!

The Kotsonis Estate follows the most contemporary methods of olive oil production and standardization. The groves, dedicated to producing Extra Virgin Olive Oil, follow the low density cultivation method. The process of cold extraction is employed in the olive oil-press, in order to preserve the vitamins contained and ensure the best product quality. The olive groves that produce Organic Extra Virgin Olive Oil are of a Single Estate, ensuring 100% control over the production process and Monovarietal, which ensures the consistency of quality and taste.

The Estate mainly produces Manaki, a variety characterized by its fruity but not bitter taste, and stands out for its creamy texture and its after-taste of almonds, artichokes and grass! Another variety, Koroneiki - famous for its fresh, fruity, olive after-taste and its solid texture which emits the aroma of green olive leaves - is also produced mainly by cooperating cultivators. Both varieties are internationally accredited for their exquisite quality and superb taste.

Quality, respect to the environment, fair trade and integrity. These are the values which Kotsonis family have preserved for over 100 years and still advocate today, believing that only those can help them build a sustainable future for them and their partners.

3000 B.C. Organic Extra Virgin Olive Oil

Its taste is sweet, fruity and mild on the palate. Its after-taste leaves a pleasant sense of freshness with a touch of almond, artichoke and grass "notes". 3000 B.C. – Organic with its solid and creamy texture, is an olive oil which imposes its presence on your daily diet, since it is born by olives of one and only variety, Manaki (monovariety) that grow in a Single Estate, ensuring full production control and consistent quality and taste.

3000 B.C. – Organic: In its unique taste, tradition meets organic farming.
